JASON ELIAS | PHOTOGRAPHER | WRITER

WWW.JASONELIAS.COM

Jason Elias' work combines his love of both photography and writing.

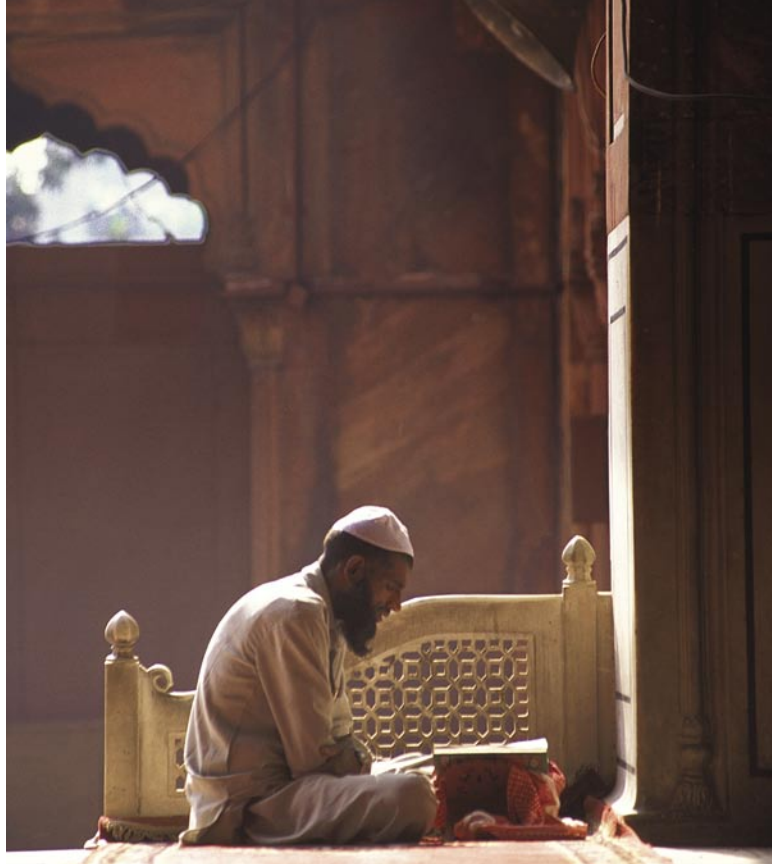

Jason's photography work consists primarily of commercial, advertising and travel photography. His writing work is focused on a wide range of subjects including culture, travel, food and lighting for photography. He is also an occasional columnist and continuing contributing editor at American Photo magazine.

Much of his travel work is also shot on Adventure Photography Tours he organizes to remote parts of the world and he continues traveling to places that rarely have accurate guide-books. The focus of much of his work continues to be a greater understanding of the world that is not-often seen and the people who happen to live there. He is also a founding board member and occasional curator for a non-profit arts organization for emerging artists, based in Los Angeles. He also likes sushi and running.

After having lived in San Francisco, Caracas and Tucson, Jason currently lives in Venice, California.
